 - The second cleaning of the month will include the 3 bathrooms within the building and a full cleaning of the rest of the building, which will include vacuuming all the carpets, dusting/cleaning of shelves, tables and furniture, and all common areas.

(27-c.3.b) Telecommuting Policy

In the event that a system, local, state, or national emergency prevents all staff from entering the Richards Library building, the Director and/or Board of Trustees will grant permission for the Director, and the Director only, to telecommute. The library's telecommuting policy is as follows:

Emergency Telecommuting is a one-time-only arrangement whereby, during a crisis or emergency at Richards Library, the Director telecommutes because their job responsibilities must still be fulfilled to provide for continuity of operations. Examples of a crisis or emergency situation are a pandemic, natural disaster, weather emergency, or other condition that presents a significant overall threat to Richards Library staff and facilities. Telecommuting is a means of providing for the fulfillment of important functions.

Required equipment will be used by the Director based upon their knowledge and experience on what needs to be accomplished during the Library's shutdown. This will mean the appropriate equipment needs, including hardware and software. The Director will maintain the equipment provided by the Library. Richards Library and the Director, accepts responsibility for damage or repair to the equipment and will provide either replacement or repair for said damage. Equipment supplied by the Library is to be used for business purposes only. The Director must sign-out all Richards Library property, either on their library card or sign-out sheet and agree to take appropriate action to protect the items from damage or theft.

Upon employment termination, all Library property will be returned to the Library unless other arrangements have been made. Richards Library will supply the Director with appropriate office supplies (pens, paper, etc.) as deemed necessary. Richards Library business expenses (mailing letters or packages, etc.) will be handled through the Library's business credit card and will be paid through normal accounting channels. The Director will establish an appropriate work environment within their home for work purposes. Security consistent with the organization's expectations of information security while working at the home office, the Director will be expected to protect organizational, member library, and patron information accessible from their home office. If possible or available, steps include the use of locked file cabinets and desks, regular password maintenance, locking the workstation when not in use, and any other measures appropriate for the job and the environment. The Director is expected to maintain their home workspace safely, free from safety hazards. Injuries sustained by the Director in a home office location and in conjunction with their regular work duties are typically covered by the Library's workers' compensation policy.

The Director is responsible for notifying a member of the Board of such injuries as soon as practicable. The Director is liable for any injuries sustained by visitors to their home worksite. Telecommuting is not designed to be a replacement for appropriate child care. If the Director's schedule, and assuming the Director has children, can be modified to accommodate child care needs, the arrangement's focus must remain on job performance and meeting the Library's demands. The Director is encouraged to discuss expectations of telecommuting with family members, if the Director has family members, before entering a trial period.

The Director will be required to accurately record all hours worked using Allied Time USA time-keeping system, if available. Otherwise, the Director must keep a record, handwritten or computer derived, to be made available to the Library's accountant. Hours worked over those scheduled per day, and per workweek, if the schedule demands it, will not need advance approval. Other informal, short-term arrangements may be made for the Director concerning family or medical leave to the extent practical for the Director and the Library and with the Director's health care provider's consent, if appropriate.

(27-c.3.c through 27-c.3.f) Re-Opening Safety Plan including Cleaning, Disinfection, and Contact Tracing Plan

In all circumstances, The Richards Library will observe directions from local health officials for best practice for staff and public health safety if a staff member reports developing symptoms or tests positive for the communicable disease. The Library's reopening safety plan states:

The following are guidelines approved by the Board of Trustees of The Richards Library. These are effective 19 May 2020. The guidelines represented in this document are considered fluid and will be reviewed and revised as updated information is received.

On 16 March 2020, The Richards Library was closed due to the COVID-19 Coronavirus pandemic, and by New York State Governor Andrew Cuomo and his Executive Order 202 declaring a state disaster emergency and Executive Order 202.6 declaring a 100% workforce reduction for non-essential personnel.
